
ContextEdit ((FULL))

Run ContextEditor.rb (you will need chmod +x on this file) and start writing cfdg files. You will need Ruby and Ruby-Gnome2. The Context Free Editor uses ./gksu/gksu/gksu.rb and cfdg.rb to describe the GNOME 2 GUI. gnome2 is a wrapper for the GNOME window manager. It contains custom views, including xkb-view which use GNOME 2 or earlier and possibly some other views. This means that for every gnome 2 command you must add "gnome2" or "gnome2" to all your cfcg files. If there is no "gnome2" in these files, use "gnome2" instead of what it says.
